

Dr. Jocelyn Evans joined the College of Charleston's School of Business in 2005 and after serving as the Chair of the Department of Economics and Finance has been the Associate Dean of Undergraduate Studies since Fall 2016. She earned her B.S. at Barat College and proceeded to gain an M.B.A at Washington University in St. Louis, Missouri, along with a Ph.D. at the University of South Carolina. Evans prides herself in teaching finance classes to graduate and undergraduate students. Her research interests include banking, corporate governance, financial distress and compensation. Evans is also a proud mom with a son and daughter who both played collegiate soccer. She is the recipient of many awards, including the Distinguished Research Award from the School of Business in 2008 and the School's Service/Advising Award in 2018 as well as the Academy of Economics and Finance in 2018 and 2019. Her prior work experiences include Georgia State University, the University of Iowa, South Carolina State University and as a visiting scholar at the Atlanta Federal Reserve Bank. She currently teaches Bank Management, Advanced Valuation and Financial Literacy for Generation Z.