

A SC native, Sarah Hays received her Bachelors of Science in International Business in 2003 from the College of Charleston and later received a dual MBA degree from Tec de Monterrey, Mexico and UNC Charlotte Belk Business School in 2006. She has worked in and owned Lowcountry-based startups, including her current one in Mount Pleasant called She Tris — a women-only sprint triathlon event company. Sarah has been involved with numerous nonprofits in the Charleston area including holding founding member and chair positions of the Honors College Advisory Board at the College of Charleston and the Charleston Chapter of Tri It For Life. Sarah is an avid runner, cyclist, triathlete and has a passion to see others enjoy the Lowcountry's outdoors in a safer, more connected way.