

LaToya Sulton is currently a Program Manager with Charleston County Community Development and Revitalization Department. She completed her undergrad at Columbia College majoring in Business Administration, and most recently graduated with her master's in Public Administration from the College of Charleston. LaToya's prior experience includes working with low-to-moderate income families providing federal assistance for rehabilitation of homes (which includes rental rehab, roof replacement, and substantial rehabilitation) and creating partnerships with non-profits to assist marginalized communities with repairs. She has over 25 years of managerial experience in the private sector. LaToya is a prior mentor of Fleet Feet Running Club, and served on the board of OHM Radio, 96.3.